Chairman's Report

Toby Lo

"Time flies when you're having fun", that's the traditional wisdom. I was genuinely surprised when Leo, Mr. Editor, asked me to write up an annual summary thinking that there must have been plenty of time left. At the beginning of the term, I openly claimed that we would try to make this PSA more PS than just a fund-raising body for the school.

Not that there is anything wrong in being the financial strong-arm of the school's every non-curriculum need. Money greases the wheel in many ways. The School General Fund now standing over $300,000 has proven valuable and is appreciated by the School's senior management. This allows flexibility in providing speedy and non-bureaucratic source of funding. We have seen the same being put to use in purchasing photographic equipment for students, sending prefects to outside run training courses and recently bought the school a mobile stage assembly unit which will become most handy when the school hall re-development takes place. Another successful project, which involved money, was the Jesuit Medical & Nursing Fund. It started in the days of Fr. Barrett S.J. requiring full time nursing assistance. At the moment, it stands at about half a million dollars or so, it is capable of meeting any foreseeable medical expenses for any Jesuit fathers. This year saw the examination of the fund and the Council after extensive consultation confirmed that the fund could be applied towards hospital expenses.

We have continued with every regular activity such as the annual ball where this year we had a special theme- Broadway! Of course this year saw the special SDP Concert, which although not a PSA function involved the PSA in helping the school in more ways than selling tickets. The Student Ambassador went to Australia and fortunately did not pick up an accent lest Mr. Barber would complain fiercely. For ball games we had the Wah Yan Soccer Cup and the 3-aside Basket Ball competitions.

As an attempt to keep my promise, we finally launched the PSA Interest Group scheme last month. In answer to our desire to be more a PAST STUDENTS association, Philip Ching and Nick Tsui thought up this scheme of small sectors of interest groups much like the clubs we had in our school days. Once formed and mature, these groups will become associates with current students and help them with various activities which the school has long wanted but cannot afford the time or the finance. As I write, there are over 22 clubs set up and a few have already started events amongst themselves.

Finally I wish the next Council every success and I'd like to think that we have tidied up the accounts, conformed with regulatory requirements and loose ends cleared. Godspeed Daniel!
